

Paris Airshow 2013

We are pleased to announce that the Midlands Aerospace Alliance will be exhibiting with its members at the Paris Airshow, 17–23 June 2013.

The International Paris Air Show - Le Bourget has been one of the premier and largest worldwide events dedicated to the aviation and space industry for a century. With some 2,000 exhibitors, 138,000 trade visitors, 3,000 journalists and 200 official delegations, the show remains a key point in the industry's economic cycle. It is an essential event for meeting aerospace, aviation and space industry professionals, communicating expertise, presenting innovations and becoming a player in the sector's decision-making community.

Exhibiting with the MAA

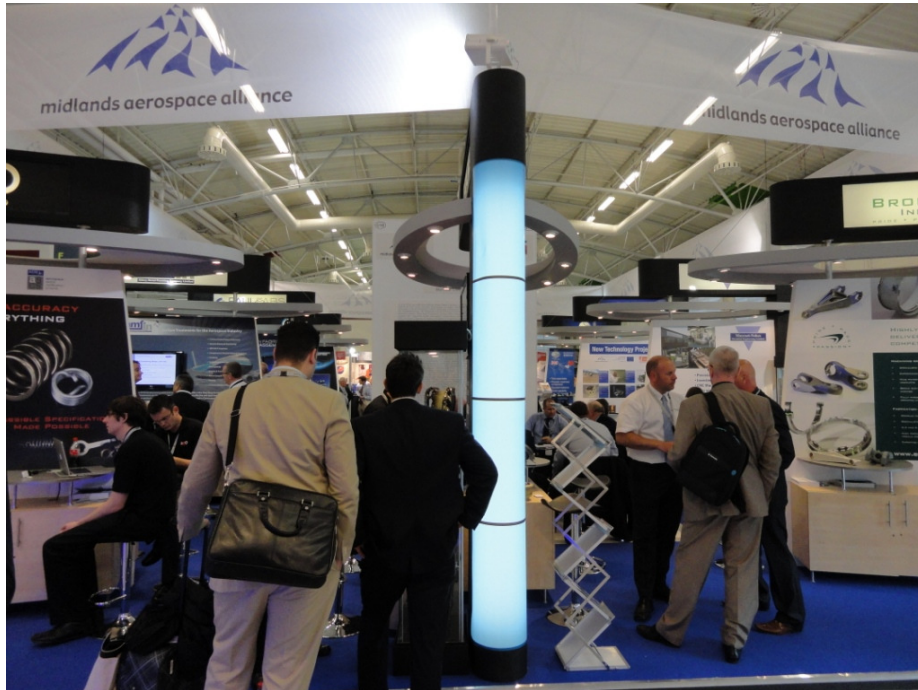

Participating in an event of this size with the MAA presents your company to world markets in the most professional way whilst taking away many concerns – costs and time being the main ones.

20 "pods" show off MAA members at Paris 2011

The MAA team works with our stand designer to give you an inclusive price where there are no hidden extras. With minimum input your company can turn up to the event welcomed by a highly visual and professional stand that presents your brand the way you want it.

The 'pod' stands give you an excellent base to meet with new and existing clients and that all-important physical presence to represent your company with the MAA taking enquiries while you go and meet with key contacts in the aerospace industry.

Business is brisk on the MAA stand at Paris 2011
