James Thomas

Director of Quality at Safran Actuation UK

James has demonstrated results through leading engineering and quality organisations within the aerospace industry. He has a deep understanding of mechanical, hydro-mechanical and electronic Actuation systems in the Military and Civil Aerospace Sectors. This combined with operational/quality assurance understanding & experience provides a holistic leadership vision whereby Safety, Compliance, Customer and Operational Improvement are at the heart of every decision.