

Grow your business at Paris Air Show

16 - 20 June 2025

MAA exhibitor information pack

140,000 trade visitors . 2,453 exhibitors . 98 countries . Limitless possibilities.

Get noticed at the largest international aerospace trade show

Paris Air Show - the largest aerospace trade show in the world - is a fantastic opportunity to get your company noticed, meet potential buyers, generate leads and grow your global network.

With 2025 set to be a major year for growth for the aerospace industry, this is the year to get your company in front of customers at a time when they'll be making pivotal decisions around future business including long-term contracts for current and next generation aircraft programmes.

Paris Air Show attracts around 140,000 trade visitors from all around the globe. It's a huge draw with 140 aircraft performing flying displays and exhibiting.

The MAA is once again offering a great value opportunity to join us on our high-impact stand at the heart of the UK Pavilion on the show's trade days: 16-20 June 2025. Your company could benefit from increased traffic, popular events, important visitors, and support from our experienced team to make the most of the show. It's not to be missed!

Airshows provide a fantastic opportunity to engage in-person with global customers and supply chain partners, current and future. These events offer a platform to develop the profile of your organisation and attract new business leads, whilst gaining market intelligence of your competition and maturity of disruptive technologies. You should expect to leave with a significantly improved view of the industry, valuable insights of other market sectors and established new contacts, all of which will help to guide your organisation's strategy and enable you to develop future business prospects.

Grow your business with the MAA

The MAA's 2025 stand is set to be the biggest and best Paris Air Show presence yet.

Situated in the UK Pavilion (Hall 2b) - which receives thousands of visitors throughout the show who are actively looking to trade with UK suppliers - the stand offers the potential for so many business opportunities.

10 great benefits of exhibiting with us

01: Be seen by more visitors

The MAA has built a strong reputation at airshows and that's why visitors know it's a key stand to visit, which benefits all companies exhibiting alongside us. What's more, our events, visits and activities draw in crowds at peak times.

02: Generate more leads

With higher footfall than you'd have exhibiting alone, you'll benefit from the potential to generate many more leads and make high-quality contacts.

03: Get in front of big customers

As an exhibitor, you'll have the chance to apply for meetings with industry primes and tier 1s. Previously, our exhibitors have held meetings with industry giants including Boeing, Embraer, Spirit AeroSystems and Lockheed Martin.

04: Meet high-profile visitors

The MAA stand can also be a draw for other high-profile visitors to the UK Pavilion. Previously, we've been visited by Prime Ministers, MPs and delegates from influential organisations such as the Department for International Trade.

05: Power up your network

Connections can be far stronger when forged face to face. It builds trust and makes it easier to convert leads into contracts. You could also reach key decision makers who are normally unobtainable through digital channels.

Grow your business with the MAA

06: Make a memorable impact

The MAA stand is visually striking and ensures your company has a professional shop front at the event. You'll be able to get your products, services and innovations seen by visitors which could make your company more memorable.

07: A collaborative community

Our exhibitors often collaborate and recommend other companies on the stand to their visitors, creating collective impact. Plus, there's something special about being able to share the experience with like-minded professionals.

08: High-profile launch pad

If you're launching a new product, service or technology, the stand could be the perfect platform for telling the world. You'll also be able to submit your news into the show press which could enable even more people to hear about it.

09: Expert support

The MAA team has years of experience and we're on hand to offer advice to help you maximise your success at the show. No more trial and error and guessing. We know what visitors notice and we look after you every step of the way.

10: Do what you do best

Thanks to the MAA team, most of the logistics of the show will be in hand, freeing up your time to enjoy the show and focus on building relationships with potential customers, doing business and growing your network.

Exhibiting with the MAA offers great benefits whether your company is in the aerospace industry now or wants to enter the sector. If you're new to aerospace, it's the perfect opportunity to both get noticed and get expert support to make your first airshow a major success.

Exhibiting with the MAA gives you a high-impact shopfront to the world at a time of market growth. Whether you're already an aerospace supplier or would like to get into the industry, airshows are the place to meet decision makers. They're your chance to make an impression on an international audience, especially if you have new products, services and innovations for them to discover. You could also meet buyers from complementary industries such as defence, space and advanced air mobility. Airshows are a big opportunity to grow your network, generate leads, see the latest market developments first hand and open up fresh opportunities.
